Fire • Security • Safety

Your solution for complex security needs

You are responsible for security in public and private building complexes during construction as well as occupancy

Responsible and professional risk management is one of your main concerns. In this case FS&S is the right choice for you because it has been designed and developed in order to meet your needs exactly. FS&S addresses:

- Principals
- Property owners
- Construction supervisors
- Managers
- Security managers
- Property management
- Facility management
- Finance and insurance services

Your security requirements have become increasingly complex

Due to the character of specific risks or the differences in project processes security measures do, in many cases, not mesh. Sometimes they even have counterproductive effects. Moreover, risk analyses for different risk groups do not always run in parallel.

The result is that the security concepts – e.g. for very different areas such as fire, burglary or work safety – are often not well coordinated.

Therefore a comprehensive approach is more important than ever.

You want the best and most comprehensive security solution that is available

Your task is to identify various risks, manage and minimise them. Mainly these risks relate to buildings but they can also affect people, goods, transports, data as well as the environment. Risks are potential incidents such as:

- Fires
- Floods
- Natural disasters
- Environmental pollution
- Accidents
- Malfunctions/interruptions
- Operational disruptions
- Theft
- Aggression
- Sabotage
- Vandalism

The solution for you: innovative services
